00:26:21.5 HCP3 ① (For the musculoskeletal stuff, um, and for, you know, the back issues, instead of taking Motrin, you'll get more mileage out of Naprosyn. We'll send it in so that you can pick it up by prescription. ① 50

00:26:34.7 PT Okay.

00:26:34.8 HCP3 We'll give you, like, a high dose to start, 500 mg twice a day, um, with Zantac. If you take enough of the anti-inflammatory for it to work, you have to protect your stomach. So take both. And then, when it's working well, and you're not feeling the pain in your hands anymore, then go down to once a day.

00:26:52.0 PT Okay.

00:26:52.7 HCP3 Meanwhile, we'll try to get you to, um, physical and occupational therapy; occupational for the hands, physical for the back ...

00:27:21.0 PT Yes. LUP+

00:27:21.5 HCP3 (But, you know, life is interesting. So how've you been?) OQOQO

00:27:24.3 PT I've been fine. HUPU

00:29:03.3 HCP3 ① (So we're going to get those labs today. As long as these are good, then we're going to switch you, okay? Because if that's what's causing the dizziness, and these labs, uh, show, that you won't happen to have allergy, and you're not resistant to the Triamec, it shouldn't have that side effect.) ①SS ②ADV- ③GInfo-

00:29:16.9 PT Okay. LUP+

00:29:17.3 HCP3 ① (I had a few people with mild complaints on the Complera. It's unusual, but it happens. I haven't had anyone, knock on wood, complain on the Triamec.) ①GInfo+
